SELLING OFF SALOONS

Sheriff Gill Will Soon Get Rid of a Few.

THERE ARE THREE IN TOWN

They Failed to Pay the Tax, Were Closed in Order, and Must Now Suffer the Last Penalty—Date for the Sales Has Not Been Fixed.

The saloonists who failed to pay the tax and have been unable to raise the money since their places were closed will see their goods and chattels go under the hammer.

The sale is made at the instance of Treasurer Cameron, and Sheriff Gill will see that they are disposed of. J. W. Sullivan's place on Sixth street is the first, and all the fixtures and furniture will go to satisfy the claim. The saloon operated by Harry Hughes, but in the name of his wife at present, is another on the list and will meet the same fate. Sometime ago Mrs. Coulson's place was closed, but no sale has ever been ordered until yesterday, when it was decided to dispose of what she had in the same way, and wipe the account off the books. All these will be sold by Sheriff Gill within two weeks, the date not having been announced. An observing man who has lived here for many years was heard to remark, when speaking of the sale, that the saloon business was evidently in a bad way in this city for he could not remember when three saloons were similarly situated at one time.

A SUCCESSFUL INSTITUTE.

Hancock County Farmers Turned Out in Large Numbers.

D. J. Smith was in town today on his way home from Fairview, where he spoke at the farmer's institute, which was the most successful ever held in Hancock county. The attendance was large and the seating capacity of the room in which the sessions were held was not enough for the crowd. Among the most interesting features of the meeting was the recitation of Miss Anna Pugh, a young lady well known in East Liverpool society. Miss Brown read an excellent paper on the farmer's daughter, and Miss Maude Williamson recited. The lecture of Professor Corbett on apple orchards and the address of Mr. Marshall were loudly applauded. Hon. Peter A. Pugh, well known in this city, had an interesting and amusing paper on cows, and the other parts of the program were well given. All the strangers were cordially treated and had a good time. A permanent organization was formed.

CANTON HAS BEEN DONE.

Postmasters Have Been Taking Its Trade Away.

The Canton Repository says that inspectors of the postal service are investigating the causes which lead to the recent increase in the salaries of postmasters in the small towns of Ohio. It is believed the postmasters have been invading Canton and making it an object for business men there to buy postage stamps of them. One postmaster is charged with printing envelopes for a Canton firm in two colors for 20 cents a thousand. One Columbiana county office is charged, but, of course, this city is free from suspicion.

TAKEN ILL AT SCHOOL.

Therefore There is a Scarlet Fever Scare in Chester.

Word comes over the river this morning that there is a scarlet fever scare in Chester. As mentioned in this paper yesterday, Maggie Cunningham was suffering from scarletina, but today it is said that the child has the fever. She was taken ill while at school, and people whose children were there fear the disease will spread. The little sufferer is said to be much better today, and no serious results are expected from her illness.

THE WALLS FELL.

An Accident at the Ruins of the Rinehart Building.

A portion of the east wall of the Rinehart building fell this morning and caused damage. The wall was considered safe, but, without warning, it tumbled over on a lumber shed owned by Martin Brozka. The building was demolished and the lumber damaged. Work of clearing up the debris goes steadily on, and when spring comes the new building will be started without delay.

TORE OFF THE NAIL.

A Laborer's Accident at the Goodwin Pottery.

Peter Harmon, employed at the Goodwin pottery, suffered an accident yesterday afternoon which caused him excruciating agony. He was wheeling coal, and at the time the accident occurred was loading a barrow from one of the bins. A teamster on the outside was shoveling coal from a wagon and did not know that Peter was in danger. He threw in a big lump and it struck Peter's hand, tearing off a nail and mashing a finger. The man suffered terribly and almost fainted from the pain.

MORE OIL LAND.

They are Leasing all They Can Find Over the River.

The men who are in the employ of a Pittsburg oil company and have been leasing land over the river have not yet completed their task. Several hundred acres in the immediate vicinity of Chester have been leased, and the agents have moved down the river. The demand for oil territory is very great at present, and everywhere agents are looking after land which promises to suit their purpose. It is stated that a well will be drilled back of Chester in a few months, or as soon as all the land they want is taken up.

KNOCKED SENSELESS.

Miss Sarah Dennis Fell on Fifth Street.

Miss Sarah Dennis, a young woman residing on Washington street, had a hard fall on Fifth street last night. She was coming out of Cooper's store when her foot slipped on a wet board, and she went down. Her head struck against a step with such force as to render her insensible. Winnie Mercer accompanied Miss Dennis, and quickly catching her up he carried her in the store, where she recovered consciousness after a time, and was taken home. She will suffer no ill effects from the fall.

NO INFORMATION.

Trades Council Met, but Members Will Not Talk.

One of the most important meetings ever held by Trades council was that of last night, but none of the members are talking today. Several matters of importance were to be considered, and were passed upon or left in the state they were before the meeting, but not a man can be found who will say the word. It is understood today that another meeting will be held on Friday evening, when the matter of the independent labor ticket for the municipal campaign will receive more attention.

NOT IGNORED.

One State Office Will Come to This County.

Columbiana Republicans have not been looking for any favors from the administration of Governor Bushnell since the announcement in the News Review several weeks ago that only those who stood by the general at Zanesville would be rewarded, but they can now take hope again. It is learned that the governor has promised a place to an aspiring politician of the county if he wants it. He has always been a firm friend of the governor, and has ever stood by him. The place has not yet been determined, it is said.

CONTINUOUS SERVICE.

Vodrey Brothers Remember an Old Employee.

George Kleinogel has been presented by the Vodrey Brothers with a handsome toilet set, which comes to him in the light of a reward of merit. He has been in their employ for a few days over a quarter of a century, and the company made the present in recognition of his value at the pottery. Mr. Kleinogel is at once one of the oldest and best known potters in the city. He came here when East Liverpool was young, and has since been working hard and watching the city grow.

STUCK IN THE MUD.

A Horse Fought Hard to Get Out of Calcutta Mud.

When John Kelly, who drives a butcher's wagon, was attempting to cover the sticky length of Calcutta road, his horse and wagon got fast and could go no farther. The wheels were so firmly imbedded in the mud that the horse could not move the vehicle. Then there was kicking and tugging, and in its vain effort to get away the horse kicked the shafts almost to pieces. Residents of the road say this is but one of several similar instances since the soft weather arrived.

To Install Officers.

The clerks meet this evening for the purpose of installing officers and transacting other business. The question of early closing will be discussed, but in what phase is not known. A prominent member of the organization said the matter only touched upon holidays.

NO WOOD TO BE USED

Nothing But the Floor Will be of Plank.

IRON, STEEL AND STONE

The Bridge Company Will Have Only the Best in the Make up of the Structure—Patiently Waiting for Good Weather to Begin Work.

The bridge company propose to have their structure built of the best material, and will have in it nothing that will succumb to the ravages of the elements in the next few years.

W. H. Shrader, the contractor, was in town last evening, and the matter was settled so far as the Ohio approach is concerned, the other parts of the bridge having been decided on before this time. It has been stated and the plan was in the mind of the company to build the approach from Cook street to the pier that will be raised near Thompson's pottery of wood. Whether the company ever considered the proposition is not known, but now it has been settled that the approach shall be of steel like the remainder of the structure. The change will not cost a great deal of money, but will greatly improve the appearance of the bridge and make it an ornament to that part of the city. Contractor Shrader would even now have his men at work if the weather would allow. The only wood to be used in the bridge will be the plank floor.

SUED AGAIN.

Frank Coldsnow Is After the Pennsylvania Company.

Special to the NEWS REVIEW.

LISBON, Jan. 23.—The damage suit brought against the Pennsylvania company a few months ago by Frank Coldsnow, of West township, and dismissed from the docket by Judge Smith, was filed in court again last night.

Coldsnow was driving over the Cleveland and Pittsburg road at a point known as Crowl's crossing when his wagon was struck by a freight train and demolished. He was thrown violently to the ground and severely hurt. For all this he believes he should have $1,999 because he attributes the accident to the carelessness of employees of the road who failed to blow the whistle or give any other sign of the approach of the train.

A marriage license was issued to Robert M. Baxter and Sabilla McMillen.

Circuit court is still in session and the attorneys are arguing their cases with vigor. There are some important cases on the docket, and the arguments made are long. It could not be learned today when the decisions will be handed down.

SHE WILL FLIRT.

And Her Hubby Caught Her in the Very Act.

She was passing down one of the principal thoroughfares of the city of East Liverpool the other day, seated in one of the palace cars of the street car line, when she had occasion to indulge in a sly flirtation with a pedestrian passing, using her hand some cambric handkerchief as a medium of communication. Glancing in the opposite direction almost at the same moment, she found her husband gazing at her in amazement, while a look, half of sorrow and 'tother half of righteous indignation, overspread his handsome countenance. She has since endeavored to impress his mind with the idea that she was communicating with a lady friend. But her lawful lord and master is not to be pacified, and emphatically, asserts that if it was a female, it must have been the new woman, encased in unmentionables of the most pronounced type. Moral—If you must indulge in innocent (?) flirtation, keep one eye open for your hubby.

ONE CASE OF MEASLES.

The First For Many Days Found in Town.

The first case of measles discovered in the city for many a day came to light this morning when one was reported from the Pickering family in the Firestone block on College street. The patient is a child and not so ill that serious results are expected. Measles have not been epidemic in the city for some time, and it is expected that the disease will not spread at present since all precaution has been taken.

GOING TO ENGLAND.

There May Be a Party From the City Next Summer.

A number of local people expect to spend a portion of the year with friends in England, and will leave during the first month of summer, it is thought that arrangements can be made whereby the party will cross the ocean together, and obtain any advantage which the steamship companies will give for a party of a dozen or more. The move is being talked in a quiet way, and if a sufficient number can be obtained, the party will be made up.

BUSHEL OF COTTON

Padded the Top of a Gambler's Table at City Hall.

At city hall there is an old table. It was captured long ago by Sheriff Gill in some raid, and is of the brand usually used by gamblers. Yesterday when the building was being cleaned up someone suggested that the cloth top be taken off, and it was done. Then the workmen were surprised, for between the top of the table and the cloth were a few bushels of cotton, packed hard and laid so that the fall of a chip or coin could not be heard six inches away. It was a perfect specimen of the gambler's table.

NO STRIKE.

The Jiggermen and Pressers Only Took a Day.

There were rumors last night of a strike at the Buckeye because of poor clay, but upon investigation a reporter learned there was nothing in the story. It was found yesterday that for some reason the clay was too soft to work well, and a few jiggermen and pressers decided to quit for the day. They knew the clay would break and crack when made into ware if it was worked when in such condition, and decided to wait until the defect was remedied. They had no intention of striking, and are at work today.

COMPELLED TO COME HOME.

Doctor Taggart Was Taken Ill in Columbus.

Doctor Taggart returned last night from Columbus, where he was attending the meeting of the Anti-Saloon league. The gentleman was so ill that he could not longer remain, and though he returned home with reluctance, he was compelled to come. Doctor Taggart says the crowd in attendance is very large and the enthusiasm is marked. The board of trade auditorium was packed with people at every meeting, and the orators are among the most brilliant ever heard in the capital.

SPONGES WERE BAD.

That Is Why John Rinehart Refuses to Pay.

John Rinehart has been sued in the court of Squire Rose by G. King & Co., a Baltimore concern, for $16.90. Rinehart bought sponges from the company and refused to pay the bill because, he claims, the sponges were no good.

Rinehart has also been sued by the Enterprise Refining company, of Cleveland in Squire Rose's court for $10.65 the amount of a bill for grease. The attorneys in the case are the candidates for city solicitor.

WILL CLOSE SATURDAY.

No More Entries for the Dog Show After That Date.

Entries for the bench show are coming to Secretary Will Hill with gratifying frequency, and at present it looks as though a large number of dogs will be ready for the inspection of the public when the show opens next month. The list of entries already shows a large number of dogs, and Secretary Hill is anxious that all should know of it in order to have their dogs listed by Saturday, when the entries close. The club anticipates a successful show.

GENERAL GORDON.

He May Lecture Here Early Next Month.

An effort is being made to secure General Gordon for a lecture in this city the second week in February. General Gordon is the distinguished southerner who fought in the rebellion and has since made a name for himself by telling from the lecture platform of the last days of the confederacy. He is an expensive lecturer, and as he must be guaranteed $200 for coming to the city interested persons are signing their willingness to support the plan.

NO DATE YET.

The Central Committee Have Not Decided on a Meeting.

Politicians and the many anxious ones who hope to serve the city for a few terms in office, are wondering when the city primaries will be held. Clerk Hanley, who is also secretary of the central committee, said today that no date had yet been decided upon, nor had a time been set for a meeting of the committee. There is a sentiment that the primaries will not be early this year, though, as one candidate said, "who knows."

HANGS IN THE BALANCE

No Deal Yet Made For the George Property.

WANTED BY ASSOCIATION MEN

But There Are Certain Conditions Which Have Not Yet Been Decided Upon—A Meeting at the First United Presbyterian Church Last Night.

Another step was taken toward the purchase of the George property by the Young Men's Christian association last evening.

A congregational meeting was held at the First U. P. church for the purpose of deciding on what would be done with the ground on which the George building stands. It has been leased to Mr. George, but the lease expires in February, and the meeting was called for the purpose of deciding on what to do with the land. It was the sense of the meeting to extend the lease for another 10 years, but the action was not taken for the Young Men's Christian association in particular. It is generally expressed, however, that the congregation would rather have the association for neighbors than any other institution in town. It is learned today that the association directors had decided to buy the property, provided certain conditions were complied with. Just what they are was not made known, but now that the church will lease the land it is believed the association will buy the building, but a few weeks must pass before the details of the sale can be arranged.

HOW TO WIN.

A Novel Idea in Connection With War.

A little knot of residents were talking about the possibilities of war with England this morning when one said: "They may beat us at the start—any well equipped power could do that—but we must get down on our knees, like the old colored preacher before the battle of New Orleans. He prayed that if the Lord was not for General Jackson he would not be against him. Then he promised if the Lord would quietly sit by and take no interest he would see the darndest fight he ever saw. If we have to fight again we will show him the same thing."

ALL A MISTAKE.

A Liverpool Men Released From Arrest in Wellsville.

The East Liverpool man who was arrested here on Tuesday night and taken to Wellsville by Constable Thorn, convinced them that it was all a mistake when he reached that place. The charge against him was obtaining goods under false pretense, he having gotten a suit of clothes from a Wellsville tailor. It developed, however, that he had no intention of beating the bill, and on paying the money was released. The man was put to some inconvenience by the arrest.

SCHNIDER WILL SUE.

He Has Little Hope of Getting Anything From Council.

Edward Schneider, who has a claim against the city, has placed his grievance in the hands of an attorney and will sue for damages. The amount has not been agreed upon, but it will not be exorbitant. He simply wants to be reimbursed for the expenses following the accident to his son who was hurt on a board pile in an alley. He has little hope of getting anything from council, and believes the matter can be settled sooner by the court.

HUGH MARTIN SICK.

It Is the Result of Exposure the Other Night.

Hugh Martin, the man who was found with a cut on his head by Chief Wyman in an uptown alley the other morning, is confined to his room a very sick man. He acknowledged to Mayor Gilbert that he had fallen and cut his head, and had been in the alley the greater part of the night. It was by no means a pleasant night, and Martin is now suffering from the exposure. He is in a critical condition.

THE NEW WOMAN SOCIAL.

It Will Be a Unique and Novel Entertainment.

The new woman social to be given by the Ladies' auxiliary of the association will be in the Quay & Co. building. The ladies have made the most elaborate preparations for the event, and propose to have it the most enjoyable entertainment they have ever given. There will be lunch and a splendid program many unique features having been prepared for it.

—George Mayes, of Beaver, called on friends here today.

The Jiggermen and Pressers Only Took a Day.

There were rumors last night of a strike at the Buckeye because of poor clay, but upon investigation a reporter learned there was nothing in the story. It was found yesterday that for some reason the clay was too soft to work well, and a few jiggermen and pressers decided to quit for the day. They knew the clay would break and crack when made into ware if it was worked when in such condition, and decided to wait until the defect was remedied. They had no intention of striking, and are at work today.

COMPELLED TO COME HOME.

Doctor Taggart Was Taken Ill in Columbus.

Doctor Taggart returned last night from Columbus, where he was attending the meeting of the Anti-Saloon league. The gentleman was so ill that he could not longer remain, and though he returned home with reluctance, he was compelled to come. Doctor Taggart says the crowd in attendance is very large and the enthusiasm is marked. The board of trade auditorium was packed with people at every meeting, and the orators are among the most brilliant ever heard in the capital.

SPONGES WERE BAD.

That is Why John Rinehart Refuses to Pay.

John Rinehart has been sued in the court of Squire Rose by G. King & Co., a Baltimore concern, for $16 90. Rinehart bought sponges from the company and refused to pay the bill because, he claims, the sponges were no good.

Rinehart has also been sued by the Enterprise Refining company, of Cleveland in Squire Rose's court for $10.65 the amount of a bill for grease. The attorneys in the case are the candidates for city solicitor.

WILL CLOSE SATURDAY.

No More Entries For the Dog Show After That Date.

Entries for the bench show are coming to Secretary Will Hill with gratifying frequency, and at present it looks as though a large number of dogs will be ready for the inspection of the public when the show opens next month. The list of entries already shows a large number of dogs, and Secretary Hill is anxious that all should know of it in order to have their dogs listed by Saturday, when the entries close. The club anticipates a successful show.

GENERAL GORDON.

He May Lecture Here Early Next Month.

An effort is being made to secure General Gordon for a lecture in this city the second week in February. General Gordon is the distinguished southerner who fought in the rebellion and has since made a name for himself by telling from the lecture platform of the last days of the confederacy. He is an expensive lecturer, and as he must be guaranteed $200 for coming to the city interested persons are signing their willingness to support the plan.

NO DATE YET.

The Central Committee Have Not Decided on a Meeting.

Politicians and the many anxious ones who hope to serve the city for a few terms in office, are wondering when the city primaries will be held. Clerk Hanley, who is also secretary of the central committee, said today that no date had yet been decided upon, nor had a time been set for a meeting of the committee. There is a sentiment that the primaries will not be early this year, though, as one candidate said, "who knows."

HANGS IN THE BALANCE

No Deal Yet Made For the George Property.

WANTED BY ASSOCIATION MEN

But There Are Certain Conditions Which Have Not Yet Been Decided Upon—A Meeting at the First United Presbyterian Church Last Night.

Another step was taken toward the purchase of the George property by the Young Men's Christian association last evening.

A congregational meeting was held at the First U. P. church for the purpose of deciding on what would be done with the ground on which the George building stands. It has been leased to Mr. George, but the lease expires in February, and the meeting was called for the purpose of deciding on what to do with the land. It was the sense of the meeting to extend the lease for another 10 years, but the action was not taken for the Young Men's Christian association in particular. It is generally expressed, however, that the congregation would rather have the association for neighbors than any other institution in town. It is learned today that the association directors had decided to buy the property, provided certain conditions were complied with. Just what they are was not made known, but now that the church will lease the land it is believed the association will buy the building, but a few weeks must pass before the details of the sale can be arranged.

HOW TO WIN.

A Novel Idea in Connection With War.

A little knot of residents were talking about the possibilities of war with England this morning when one said: "They may beat us at the start—any well equipped power could do that—but we must get down on our knees, like the old colored preacher before the battle of New Orleans. He prayed that if the Lord was not for General Jackson he would not be against him. Then he promised if the Lord would quietly sit by and take no interest he would see the darndest fight he ever saw. If we have to fight again we will show him the same thing."

ALL A MISTAKE.

A Liverpool Men Released From Arrest in Wellsville.

The East Liverpool man who was arrested here on Tuesday night and taken to Wellsville by Constable Thorn, convinced them that it was all a mistake when he reached that place. The charge against him was obtaining goods under false pretense, he having gotten a suit of clothes from a Wellsville tailor. It developed, however, that he had no intention of beating the bill, and on paying the money was released. The man was put to some inconvenience by the arrest.

SCHNIDER WILL SUE.

He Has Little Hope of Getting Anything From Council.

Edward Schneider, who has a claim against the city, has placed his grievance in the hands of an attorney and will sue for damages. The amount has not been agreed upon, but it will not be exorbitant. He simply wants to be reimbursed for the expenses following the accident to his son who was hurt on a board pile in an alley. He has little hope of getting anything from council, and believes the matter can be settled sooner in court.

HUGH MARTIN SICK.

It is the Result of Exposure the Other Night.

Hugh Martin, the man who was found with a cut on his head by Chief Wyman in an uptown alley the other morning, is confined to his room a very sick man. He acknowledged to Mayor Gilbert that he had fallen and cut his head, and had been in the alley the greater part of the night. It was by no means a pleasant night, and Martin is now suffering from the exposure. He is in a critical condition.

THE NEW WOMAN SOCIAL.

It Will Be a Unique and Novel Entertainment.

The new woman social to be given by the Ladies' auxiliary of the association will be in the Quay & Co. building. The ladies have made the most elaborate preparations for the event, and propose to have it the most enjoyable entertainment they have ever given. There will be lunch and a splendid program many unique features having been prepared for it.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., THURSDAY, JAN. 23.

For President,

WILLIAM MCKINLEY,

OF OHIO.

GOVERNOR FORAKER and all the rest of Ohio will stand by McKinley at the St. Louis convention. It is all a matter of state honor now.

THE new Monroe doctrine is good enough for any sober minded American. It covers the ground and leaves no loophole through which a foreign cannon can be thrust.

NOTHING but amusement has been created by the announcement of a local paper last night that it chased the liquor league out of politics. The hedging of that sniveling paper dur-ludicrous.

PURIFYING PRIMARIES.

The Republicans of Athens county have made a move by which they hope to purify the primary elections. Too much money has been spent there in the past, and it has been decided to cut down expenses and make running for office in that county a more honorable calling. A set of resolutions has been adopted, and all who lay out money other than for the following purpose will be taken from the ticket:

For the payment of all hotel bills,

railroad fare and livery hire necessary in traveling through the country in his own interest; for the payment for stamps, stationery and the hire of one clerk, if he may consider it necessary to the proper management of his campaign; for the payment of any printing bills actually contracted for, in the interests of his canvass; for the payment of all assessments placed upon him by this committee or any other authorized Republican committee.

The movement is inaugurated none too soon. There is no doubt that candidates scatter too much gold and silver in attempting to gain office. Campaigns would be less hard on those who seek public favor and there would be more money in it for the candidate if restrictions were made in every county of the state.

The great majority of men and women, of even very much more than ordinary intelligence, pay no attention whatsoever to the well established rules governing the preservation of health. Simple symptoms of indigestion or slight disarrangements of the stomach or system are treated by them as trivial happenings, having no weight or bearing upon their general health.

In this seeming neglect or too much over confidence in their own robustness lies the greatest mistake of their lives, as it is invariably from these little ailments giant chronic diseases spring. To guard fully against such evils, use Libby's Phosphatic Beef, Iron

A BRITISH PASTIME.

Details of the Seizure of the Ashanti Country.

KING GROVELED IN THE DUST.

He, His Wife's Mother, His Father and Prominent Chiefs Will Be Held Until They Satisfy the English Grief For Gold—Grove of Skulls Destroyed.

CAPE COAST CASTLE, British West Africa, Jan. 23.—The following details of the seizure of the Ashanti country, commander of the British expeditionary force, and King Prempeh of Ashanti, when the latter made his submission to Great Britain at Coomassie have just been received from the capital:

The troops formed in the principal square of Coomassie at 7 o'clock in the morning of Monday last, preparatory to the grand palaver. Sir Francis Scott and his staff were seated in a semi-circle in the square shortly afterward and an officer was sent to the palace with instructions to press upon the mind of King Prempeh that if he did not appear before the British commander within five minutes after this summons that he would be taken from his palace by force.

The king made a show of resistance, but finally accompanied the officer, surrounded by an escort, to the square. Arrived there, King Prempeh took his seat upon the stool of state. After a few formal words had passed between the king and Sir Francis, through the interpreters, the king descended from his stool and shook hands with the British commander. The latter was then introduced to the British governor, who recited at length the negotiations which had been conducted between the representatives of Great Britain and Ashanti, ending by informing the king that he must formally submit to Great Britain and give up immediately 50,000 ounces of gold as an indemnity for the expenses incurred by the British government in sending an expedition to bring his majesty to terms. The king was also informed that he must keep the streets clean, maintain order among the populace and that he would be held responsible for any disturbances among the natives.

King Prempeh was greatly impressed by the show of force in the square, the Maxim guns being conveniently posted and every yard being utilized by the British and their native allies. Finally the king, through an interpreter, replied that he was ready to submit to the British, took off his crown and sandals and advanced to the seats formed by his captives, upon which Sir Francis Scott and the governor were seated, surrounded by their staffs. His majesty then placed his head between the feet of Sir Francis Scott and those of the British governor, clasping them with his hands and actually groveling in the dust as a mark of his complete submission to the power of the queen of England.

This display of helplessness upon the part of King Prempeh greatly impressed the Ashantis present. They were greatly agitated and talked excitedly together, but they made no attempt at resistance—a step which would have been useless in the face of the British troops and the deadly rapid fire guns.

The governor finally made the king arise, and recalled to his majesty's mind that he had been requested to immediately pay 50,000 ounces of gold to the representatives of Great Britain. In reply, his majesty, who was greatly agitated, said he only possessed 350 ounces of gold. The governor said he knew better.

King Prempeh then asked for time, but the governor answered that upon a previous occasion the Ashantis had failed to keep their promises made to the British, and that the latter had no intention of giving them the opportunity of doing the same thing again. The governor then abruptly announced that King Prempeh, the queen's mother, the king's father and the other chiefs of importance present would be taken prisoners under escort to Cape Coast Castle. The governor's words fell like a thunderbolt upon the assemblage of Ashanti natives, and there was an impetuous movement forward which boded trouble. But the troops scared them off. A chief declared that their ambassadors had misrepresented matters.

The governor, in reply, said that their ambassadors would also be made prisoners and taken to Cape Coast castle, where they will be charged with forgery in having put their names apparently to documents of a misleading nature. A strong guard then moved forward and surrounded the king, the queen's mother, the king's father, the prominent chiefs and the ambassadors, without any trouble.

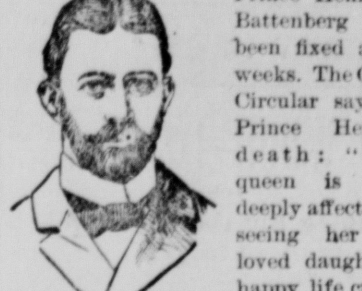

The submission and capture of King Prempeh will insure British supremacy in that part of Africa for many years to come. His majesty, his relatives and the chiefs captured will be kept at Cape Coast Castle until the 50,000 ounces of gold demanded by the British governor are forthcoming, and until all the other questions connected with the expedition and its objects have been arranged. The Ashanti ambassadors accused of having misled their people will be tried, and if found guilty, severely punished.

Next Coomassie, the British discovered and burned the notorious sacrificial grove full of skulls and bones of the victims of King Prempeh.

DEATH OF PRINCE HENRY.

He Accompanied the British Expedition Against the King of Ashanti.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The period of mourning by the court for the death of Prince Henry of Battenberg has been fixed at six weeks. The Court Circular says of Prince Henry's death: "The queen is most deeply affected at seeing her beloved daughter's happy life crushed, and in losing a most amiable and affectionate son-in-law, to whom she was much devoted. The prince died of fever on the night of Jan. 20, on board the British cruiser Blonde. It had been his intention to recruit his health at Madeira. His wife was just going to start to nurse him when the news of his death arrived.

Prince Henry Maurice of Battenberg was a son of Prince Alexander of Battenberg (Hesse) and the Countess von Lauck, daughter of a former Polish minister of war, who was raised to the rank of prince on her morganatic marriage with the ruler of Hesse. He was born Oct. 5, 1858, and married on July 23, 1885, Princess Beatrice Mary Victoria Feodora, the ninth and youngest child of Queen Victoria. On the day of his marriage he received the rank of royal highness by letters patent from the queen. He was later appointed governor of the Isle of Wight and of Carisbrook castle, and although not really an officer of the regular army of Great Britain, he was gazetted as a colonel in the army list.

In November last Prince Henry joined the British Ashanti expedition in a special capacity, and sailed on Dec. 7. Colonel Sir Francis Scott, commanding the expedition, appointed him his military secretary. In the early part of the present month he was attacked with swamp fever at Nyisa and returned to Cape Coast castle in charge of a surgeon, though it was announced that his illness was not serious.

CLARA BARTON SETS SAIL.

Has Decided on No Plans, Except Some Way to Aid Armenians.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Miss Clara Barton and her staff, members of the National Red Cross society, have sailed on the steamship New York. Those who accompanied Miss Barton were Dr. J. B. Hubbell, field agent; Miss Lucy Graves, stenographer and typewriter; Ernest Mason, interpreter and linguist, and George H. Pullman, secretary to Miss Barton said:

"I can give you but five minutes. We expect to reach Constantinople within three weeks. This will allow for delay and transfer in London, Paris and Geneva. I have no definite plans, as yet, but I shall mature plans when I reach the field of operation. I was asked to do this work, because they could not get anyone else—I am the one particular tool."

When asked a few specific questions, Miss Barton said in reply: "I do not know the amount of the Armenian relief fund. We are going to feed the hungry, and that is as far as we have laid our plans at present. I shall, upon arriving at Constantinople, endeavor to enlist the sympathy of the United States minister at that place. I do not know whether I shall make an effort to have an audience with the sublime porte himself, and I shall have only newspaper knowledge that the sublime porte has, through the Turkish minister at Washington, announced his opposition to the distribution of the relief fund."

A Revolution Likely in Spain.

BILBAO, Spain, Jan. 23.—Rumors are current here of greatly increased activity in Carlist circles, where it is hoped that the reverses which the Spanish forces have suffered in Cuba and the failure of General Campos to put down the insurrection may rouse the Spanish people against the government of the queen regent, and afford an opportunity for Don Carlos, or Don Jaime, his son.

Rich Oil Fields in Tennessee.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Jan. 23.—Wonderfully rich oil fields have been found in northern Tennessee, and wild excitement prevails. Options and leases on hundreds of thousands of acres have been taken. The Standard Oil company is largely interested. Five hundred thousand dollars is already involved in transactions in the field.

Business Men Disappear.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 23.—Edgar P. Arent, head of the Arent Beattyville Coal and Feed Company, and Harry C. McConnell, Arent's brother-in-law and president of the Jellico Beattyville Coal and Feed company, have disappeared, their two companies being closely connected in their business affairs.

Divorced From a Minister.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 23.—Mary McNulty has been granted a divorce from her husband, the Rev. Charles McNulty, formerly a Presbyterian minister at Philadelphia. Mrs. McNulty charges that the defendant gave up his pastorate and proceeded to squander her inheritance.

Arming the Canadians.

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 23.—The government has decided upon its line of action with reference to the arming of the militia forces. The permanent force is to be armed with the Lee-Netford rifle and the militia with the Martini-Enfield rifle.

German Paper Declares For McKinley.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 23.—The Westliche Post of this city, the leading German Republican paper of the central west, has come out strong in favor of McKinley for the presidential nomination.

Jameson Sails For England.

DURBAN, Jan. 23.—Dr. Jameson and his officers from Pretoria have arrived here on a train and were forthwith escorted on board the transport Victoria, which sailed for England.

Kaiser and Czar May Confer.

PARIS, Jan. 23.—The rumor that the Emperor of Germany and Czar of Russia intend to have a meeting at Laturbie is gaining strength in diplomatic circles.

SILVER FIRST TO LAST

This the Theme of the Washington Conference.

WARNER SAYS IT'S TIME TO ACT.

Parties to the Four Winds and Make a Concerted Dash Against Gold—A Vermont Delegate Roasts Editor Holden of Cleveland.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—About 100 silver men were present at a conference held at Willard's hall under the auspices of the American Bimetallist League. General A. J. Warner presided and in calling the conference to order said that the time had come for action. There was no hope of winning the fight in detachments, inside organizations controlled by gold standard men. "Gold," he said, was written on the walls of the inner temples of both old parties, and it could be obliterated only by tearing down the walls. This conference was called, he said, to deliberate upon the present situation of the country and to decide upon the policy to be pursued by the friends of bimetallism, and it was expected that an agreement would be reached upon a time and place for holding a national convention to nominate candidates for the presidency and vice presidency of the United States.

The fight must begin now and continue until election day next November. Silver men must get together, as the gold men are together. The silver men were not antagonizing Republicans, Democrats or Populists; they were fighting the gold men. At the conclusion of his address, Mr. Wharton Barker of Philadelphia spoke of the competition which the manufacturers of this country were beginning to feel from the manufacturers of China and Japan. Senator Stewart delivered an animated address on the general situation. A committee on resolutions was authorized to be appointed by the chairman, and another to arrange for a national convention.

The committee on resolutions consists of the following: Senator John P. Jones, Nevada; James Sheldon, Connecticut; H. F. Bartine, Nevada; John H. Lorimer, Philadelphia, and Hon. J. L. McLarin, South Carolina. Editor Holden of the Cleveland Plain Dealer invited the silver men to hold their convention in his city. In the course of some remarks, Mr. Holden said he did not think it necessary to forsake his party, and added that "if this be treason, make the most of it."

His speech gave rise to considerable discussion, and Joseph Battelle, a delegate from Vermont, in vigorous language, gave the editor to understand that nobody was wanted in the conference who was not for free silver first and last.

CLEVELAND WENT TOO FAR.

So Wolcott Thinks, Regarding His Interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Senator Wolcott, in his speech on the Monroe doctrine in the senate, held that the doctrine had been misapplied in the pending Venezuelan boundary controversy; that so much of President Monroe's message as referred to the colonization of portions of America by European powers could have no applicability to any boundary dispute now existing in South America; that the hostility to the extension by European powers of their systems to any portion of this hemisphere, as expressed in that message had special reference to the systems of government which were based on the divine rights of kings and which were directed to the overthrow of all republics wherever existing; that the Monroe doctrine was in no wise intended as insisting upon republican forms of government in this hemisphere or as committing this government to maintain the doctrine outside its own borders or except as its own integrity might be affected; that this country was embarking upon a new and different policy from the one laid down by our fathers, and that from 1821 until now, congress had uniformly declined to define the Monroe doctrine or to adopt it as a rule of action.

There had been much tension for the past few weeks. The letter of the secretary of state to Mr. Bayard was, from a diplomatic standpoint of view, almost incendiary. The president's message glowed with the possibilities of war. The South American republics were entitled to our friendly and affectionate regard; as citizens of a sister republic we owed them protection whenever the interests of free government was attacked. Beyond that our obligation ceased. Great Britain, he said, will yield the whole controversy rather than face the horrors of war over such a question.

A NOTABLE CONTROVERSY.

Sherman, Gorman, Teller and Others Get Into a Wrangle Over Silver.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The senate session was marked by a notable controversy between Mr. Sherman, Mr. Gorman, Mr. Teller and others, which led the most spirited financial debate that has occurred since the present congress convened. Mr. Sherman spoke at length and with great earnestness, deprecating the thrusting of an "old, worn-out issue"—the silver question—into the senate at a time when practical legislation was imperative.

Mr. Teller and Mr. Gorman answered Mr. Sherman from their respective standpoints, while Mr. Aldrich, Mr. Lindsay, Mr. Gray and others took part in the exciting debate.

An American Schooner Detained.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—United States Consul General Viquein, at Panama, has called the state department that the schooner Golding, which is reported to have left San Francisco with Antonio Ezeta aboard bound on a filibustering expedition against Salvador, has been detained at Panama on a charge of violating the neutrality laws.

State of the Gold Reserve.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The treasury has lost $143,000 in gold coin and $39,000 in bars, leaving the reserve at the close of business $50,592,487.

OUR LAND BEING GRABBED.

Quick Settlement of the Alaska Boundary Dispute Urged.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Assistant Secretary of State Adie and General Duffield, superintendent of the coast and geodetic survey, have explained to the committee on ways and means the desirability of an appropriation for the expenses of a convention with Great Britain for marking the Alaskan boundary along the one hundred and forty-first meridian of west longitude. A joint resolution to appropriate $75,000 for the purpose is before the committee. By independent surveys by United States and Canadian engineers, this meridian has been marked at three important points—Mount St. Elias, Forty-Mile creek and Porcupine river. The two lines, as stated heretofore in these dispatches, are but six feet apart at the first of these points and 400 feet at the third.

Mr. Adie represented that there would probably be little difficulty in reaching a settlement of these slight differences. The great question to be decided is the method for delimiting the boundary. The Canadian authorities, it was developed, desire the meridian to be established by an astronomical survey, which would require several years. The state department probably will suggest making a survey based on the three points already established as a less intricate and difficult method. In the course of the discussion it was said that Canadians have established military posts and settlements near the meridian on the ground in dispute. For these and other reasons the state department is anxious to adopt the most speedy plan.

NO CUBAN MESSAGE.

The Report of One From the President Not Well Founded.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The supposition that has gained ground in congress that because the secretary of state has not yet forwarded to congress a reply to the resolution calling for information and all documents throwing light upon the Cuban war President Cleveland was preparing a message and might announce the recognition of the belligerents does not seem to be well founded. A member of the house foreign affairs committee who talked with Secretary Olney this week says that the documents will be forwarded within a few days and that they will not be accompanied by a message.

It is possible, he said, that Secretary Olney will hand a part of the documents, if not all of them, to the chairman of the committee instead of following the usual course of sending them to the speaker to be laid before the house. Much of the correspondence in possession of the department is in the form of reports and letters from United States consuls in Cuba. Necessarily their contents are confidential in their nature, and the publication of them might subject the consuls to personal violence, and at least would win for them the enmity of one of the parties to the war and destroy their usefulness as officials.

ASKING EUROPE TO ACT.

A Senate Resolution Asking a Move to Aid the Armenians.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Mr. Cullom, from the senate committee on foreign relations, has reported a resolution in the senate relative to the Armenian troubles. It recites the provision of the treaty of Berlin as to religious freedom, and resolves that it is the imperative duty of the United States to express hope that the European powers will bring about the carrying out of the treaty and requests the president to transmit this resolution to the powers. It asserts that the senate and house will support the president in doing all he can to bring about an alleviation of the present conditions. He asked for immediate action on the resolution. Several senators suggested that the resolution should go over, and it was so ordered.

CAPE COAST CASTLE, British West Africa, Jan. 23.—The following details of the seizure of the Ashanti country, commander of the British expeditionary force, and King Prempi of Ashanti, when the latter made his submission to Great Britain at Coomassie have just been received from the capital:

The troops formed in the principal square of Coomassie at 7 o'clock in the morning of Monday last, preparatory to the grand palaver. Sir Francis Scott and his staff were seated in a semi-circle in the square shortly afterward and an officer was sent to the palace with instructions to press upon the mind of King Prempi that if he did not appear before the British commander within five minutes after this summons that he would be taken from his palace by force.

The king made a show of resistance, but finally accompanied the officer, surrounded by an escort, to the square. Arrived there, King Prempi took his seat upon the stool of state. After a few formal words had passed between the king and Sir Francis, through the interpreters, the king descended from his stool and shook hands with the British commander. The latter was then introduced to the British governor, who resided at length the negotiations which had been conducted between the representatives of Great Britain and Ashanti, ending by informing the king that he must formally submit to Great Britain and give up immediately 50,000 ounces of gold as an indemnity for the expenses incurred by the British government in sending an expedition to bring his majesty to terms. The king was also informed that he must keep the streets clean, maintain order among the populace and that he would be held responsible for any disturbances among the natives.

King Prempi was greatly impressed by the show of force in the square, the Maxim guns being conveniently posted and every yard being utilized by the British and their native allies. Finally the king, through an interpreter, replied that he was ready to submit to the British, took off his crown and sandals and advanced to the seats formed by biscuit boxes, upon which Sir Francis Scott and the governor were seated, surrounded by their staffs. His majesty then placed his head between the feet of Sir Francis Scott and those of the British governor, clasping them with his hands and actually groveling in the dust as a mark of his complete submission to the power of the queen of England.

This display of helplessness upon the part of King Prempi greatly impressed the Ashantis present. They were greatly agitated and talked excitedly together, but they made no attempt at resistance—a step which would have been useless in the face of the British troops and the deadly rapid fire guns.

The governor finally made the king arise, and recalled to his majesty's mind that he had been requested to immediately pay 50,000 ounces of gold to the representatives of Great Britain. In reply, his majesty, who was greatly agitated, said he only possessed 380 ounces of gold. The governor said he knew better.

King Prempi then asked for time, but the governor answered that upon a previous occasion the Ashantis had failed to keep their promises made to the British, and that the latter had no intention of giving them the opportunity of doing the same thing again. The governor then abruptly announced that King Prempi, the queen's mother, the king's father and the other chiefs of importance present would be taken prisoners under escort to Cape Coast Castle. The governor's words fell like a thunderbolt upon the assemblage of Ashanti natives, and there was an impetuous movement forward which boded trouble. But the troops scared them off. A chief declared that their ambassadors had misrepresented matters.

The governor, in reply, said that their ambassadors would also be made prisoners and taken to Cape Coast castle, where they will be charged with forgery in having put their names apparently to documents of a misleading nature. A strong guard then moved forward and surrounded the king, the queen's mother, the king's father, the prominent chiefs and the ambassadors, without any trouble.

The submission and capture of King Prempi will insure British supremacy in that part of Africa for many years to come. His majesty, his relatives and the chiefs captured will be kept at Cape Coast Castle until the 50,000 ounces of gold demanded by the British governor are forthcoming, and until all the other questions connected with the expedition and its objects have been arranged. The Ashanti ambassadors accused of having misled their people will be tried, and if found guilty, severely punished.

Near Coomassie, the British discovered and burned the notorious sacrificial grove full of skulls and bones of the victims of King Prempi.

DEATH OF PRINCE HENRY.

He Accompanied the British Expedition Against the King of Ashanti.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The period of mourning by the court for the death of Prince Henry of Battenberg has been fixed at six weeks. The Court Circular says of Prince Henry's death: "The queen is most deeply affected at seeing her beloved daughter's happy life crushed, and in losing a most amiable and affectionate son-in-law, to whom she was much devoted."

PRINCE HENRY.

The prince died of fever on the night of Jan. 20, on board the British cruiser Blonde. It had been his intention to recruit his health at Madeira. His wife was just going to start to nurse him when the news of his death arrived.

Prince Henry Maurice of Battenberg was a son of Prince Alexander of Battenberg (Hesse) and the Countess von Lauck, daughter of a former Polish minister of war, who was raised to the rank of prince on her nuptial marriage with the ruler of Hesse. He was born Oct. 5, 1858, and married on July 23, 1885, Princess Beatrice Mary Victoria Feodora, the ninth and youngest child of Queen Victoria. On the day of his marriage he received the rank of royal highness by letters patent from the queen. He was later appointed governor of the Isle of Wight and of Carisbrook castle, and although not really an officer of the regular army of Great Britain, he was gazetted as a colonel in the army list.

In November last Prince Henry joined the British Ashanti expedition in a special capacity, and sailed on Dec. 7. Colonel Sir Francis Scott, commanding the expedition, appointed him his military secretary. In the early part of the present month he was attacked with swamp fever at Nyisa and returned to Cape Coast castle in charge of a surgeon, though it was announced that his illness was not serious.

CLARA BARTON SETS SAIL.

Has Decided on No Plans, Except Some Way to Aid Armenians.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Miss Clara Barton and her staff, members of the National Red Cross society, have sailed on the steamship New York. Those who accompanied Miss Barton were Dr. J. B. Hubbell, field agent; Miss Lucy Graves, stenographer and typewriter; Ernest Mason, interpreter and linguist, and George H. Pullman, secretary to Miss Barton. In briefly discussing her plans, Miss Barton said:

"I can give you but five minutes. We expect to reach Constantinople within three weeks. This will allow for delay and transfer in London, Paris and Geneva. I have no definite plans, as yet, but I shall mature plans when I reach the field of operation. I was asked to do this work, because they could not get anyone else—I am the one particular tool."

When asked a few specific questions, Miss Barton said in reply: "I do not know the amount of the Armenian relief fund. We are going to feed the hungry, and that is as far as we have laid our plans at present. I shall, upon arriving at Constantinople, endeavor to enlist the sympathy of the United States minister at that place. I do not know whether I shall make an effort to have an audience with the sublime porté himself, and I shall have only newspaper knowledge that the sublime porté has, through the Turkish minister at Washington, announced his opposition to the distribution of the relief fund."

A Revolution Likely in Spain.

BILBAO, Spain, Jan. 23.—Rumors are current here of greatly increased activity in Carlist circles, where it is hoped that the reverses which the Spanish forces have suffered in Cuba and the failure of General Campos to put down the insurrection may rouse the Spanish people against the government of the queen regent and afford an opportunity for Don Carlos, or Don Jaime, his son.

SILVER FIRST TO LAST

This the Theme of the Washington Conference.

WARNER SAYS IT'S TIME TO ACT.

Parties to the Four Winds and Make a Concerted Dash Against Gold—A Vermont Delegate Roasts Editor Holden of Cleveland.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—About 100 silver men were present at a conference held at Willard's hall under the auspices of the American Bimetallic League. General A. J. Warner presided and in calling the conference to order said that the time had come for action. There was no hope of winning the fight in detachments, inside organizations controlled by gold standard men. "Gold," he said, was written on the walls of the inner temples of both old parties, and it could be obliterated only by tearing down the walls. This conference was called, he said, to deliberate upon the present situation of the country and to decide upon the policy to be pursued by the friends of bimetalism, and it was expected that an agreement would be reached upon a time and place for holding a national convention to nominate candidates for the presidency and vice presidency of the United States.

The fight must begin now and continue until election day next November. Silver men must get together, as the gold men are together. The silver men were not antagonizing Republicans, Democrats or Populists; they were fighting the gold men. At the conclusion of his address, Mr. Wharton Barker of Philadelphia spoke of the competition which the manufacturers of this country were beginning to feel from the manufacturers of China and Japan. Senator Stewart delivered an animated address on the general situation. A committee on resolutions was authorized to be appointed by the chairman, and another to arrange for a national convention.

The committee on resolutions consists of the following: Senator John P. Jones, Nevada; James Sheldon, Connecticut; H. F. Hartine, Nevada; John H. Lorimer, Philadelphia, and Hon. J. L. McLarin, South Carolina. Editor Holden of the Cleveland Plain Dealer invited the silver men to hold their convention in his city. In the course of some remarks, Mr. Holden said he did not think it necessary to forsake his party, and added that "if this be treason, make the most of it."

His speech gave rise to considerable discussion, and Joseph Battelle, a delegate from Vermont, in vigorous language, gave the editor to understand that nobody was wanted in the conference who was not for free silver first and last.

CLEVELAND WENT TOO FAR.

So Wolcott Thinks, Regarding His Interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Senator Wolcott, in his speech on the Monroe doctrine in the senate, held that the doctrine had been misapplied in the pending Venezuelan boundary controversy; that so much of President Monroe's message as referred to the colonization of portions of America by European powers could have no applicability to any boundary dispute now existing in South America; that the hostility to the extension by European powers of their systems to any portion of this hemisphere, as expressed in that message had special reference to the systems of government which were based on the divine rights of kings and which were directed to the overthrow of all republics wherever existing; that the Monroe doctrine was in nowise intended as insisting upon Republican forms of government in this hemisphere or as committing this government to maintain the doctrine outside its own borders or except as its own integrity might be affected; that this country was embarking upon a new and different policy from the one laid down by our fathers, and that from 1821 until now, congress had uniformly declined to define the Monroe doctrine or to adopt it as a rule of action.

There had been much tension for the past few weeks. The letter of the secretary of state to Mr. Bayard was, from a diplomatic standpoint of view, almost incendiary. The president's message glewed with the possibilities of war. The South American republics were entitled to our friendly and affectionate regard; as citizens of a sister republic we owed them protection whenever the interests of free government was attacked. Beyond that our obligation ceased. Great Britain, he said, will yield the whole controversy rather than face the horrors of war over such a question.

A NOTABLE CONTROVERSY.

Sherman, Gorman, Teller and Others Get Into a Wrangle Over Silver.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The senate session was marked by a notable controversy between Mr. Sherman, Mr. Gorman, Mr. Teller and others, which led the most spirited financial debate that has occurred since the present congress convened. Mr. Sherman spoke at length and with great earnestness, deprecating the thrusting of an "old, worn-out issue"—the silver question—into the senate at a time when practical legislation was imperative.

Mr. Teller and Mr. Gorman answered Mr. Sherman from their respective standpoints, while Mr. Aldrich, Mr. Lindsay, Mr. Gray and others took part in the exciting debate.

An American Schooner Detained.

Fife, in at Panama, has cabled the state department that the schooner Golding, which is reported to have left San Francisco with Antonio Ezeta aboard bound on a filibustering expedition against Salvador, has been detained at Panama on a charge of violating the neutrality laws.

State of the Gold Reserve.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The treasury has lost $142,000 in gold coin and $39,000 in bars, leaving the reserve at the close of business $50,593,487.

OUR LAND BEING GRABBED.

Quick Settlement of the Alaska Boundary Dispute Urged.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Assistant Secretary of State Adee and General Duffield, superintendent of the coast and geodetic survey, have explained to the committee on ways and means the desirability of an appropriation for the expenses of a convention with Great Britain for marking the Alaskan boundary along the one hundred and forty-first meridian of west longitude. A joint resolution to appropriate $75,000 for the purpose is before the committee. By independent surveys by United States and Canadian engineers, this meridian has been marked at three important points—Mount St. Elias, Forty-Mile creek and Porcupine river. The two lines, as stated heretofore in these dispatches, are but six feet apart at the first of these points and 400 feet at the third.

Mr. Adee represented that there would probably be little difficulty in reaching a settlement of these slight differences. The great question to be decided is the method for delimiting the boundary. The Canadian authorities, it was developed, desire the meridian to be established by an astronomical survey, which would require several years. The state department probably will suggest making a survey based on the three points already established as a less intricate and difficult method. In the course of the discussion it was said that Canadians have established military posts and settlements near the meridian on the ground in dispute. For these and other reasons the state department is anxious to adopt the most speedy plan.

NO CUBAN MESSAGE.

The Report of One From the President Not Well Founded.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—The supposition that has gained ground in congress that because the secretary of state has not yet forwarded to congress a reply to the resolution calling for information and all documents throwing light upon the Cuban war President Cleveland was preparing a message and might announce the recognition of the belligerents does not seem to be well founded. A member of the house foreign affairs committee who talked with Secretary Olney this week says that the documents will be forwarded within a few days and that they will not be accompanied by a message.

It is possible, he said, that Secretary Olney will hand a part of the documents, if not all of them, to the chairman of the committee instead of following the usual course of sending them to the speaker to be laid before the house. Much of the correspondence in possession of the department is in the form of reports and letters from United States consuls in Cuba. Necessarily their contents are confidential in their nature, and the publication of them might subject the consuls to personal violence, and at least would win for them the enmity of one of the parties to the war and destroy their usefulness as officials.

ASKING EUROPE TO ACT.

A Senate Resolution Asking a Move to Aid the Armenians.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Mr. Cullom, from the senate committee on foreign relations, has reported a resolution in the senate relative to the Armenian troubles. It recites the provision of the treaty of Berlin as to religious freedom, and resolves that it is the imperative duty of the United States to express hope that the European powers will bring about the carrying out of the treaty and requests the president to transmit this resolution to the powers. It asserts that the senate and house will support the president in doing all he can to bring about an alleviation of the present conditions. He asked for immediate action on the resolution. Several senators suggested that the resolution should go over, and it was so ordered.

THREAT FROM WARNER MILLER.

European Capital Will Be Sought If We Don't Help the Nicaragua Canal.

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—Senator Warner Miller said in an interview here: "If congress at its present session does not provide for building and controlling the Nicaragua canal by the United States we shall seek European capital for its construction. For five years this government has been playing fast and loose. We have never asked for government aid, and have gone to Washington only when summoned. Congress has no right to ask private individuals who have put $5,000,000 into the enterprise to stand this delay any longer. Once free, we can get all the European capital we need. I am afraid there will then be a good cause for war, for the administration can allow a European power to have control of the great waterway."

Mr. Miller said that the canal officials are prepared to combat any adverse features of the report to be made to congress by the commission of United States engineers. The best engineers of the world, he said, had examined the plan and declared them feasible and moderate in cost.

"I don't think the report will have any weight with our friends," Mr. Miller added. "The commission was appointed at the instance of an enemy of the canal, and its report has a purpose behind its findings."

MANUFACTURERS' RESOLUTIONS.

Strong Ones Adopted at the Convention at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—The manufacturers' convention is being more largely attended.

The resolutions adopted declared emphatically for a home market for home producers; for the largest possible extension of foreign trade relations; for the principle of reciprocity in national legislation; to develop reciprocal trade relations with foreign countries; for a judicious system of subsidies to American shipping and to restore and extend the merchant marine; for the improvement of natural and artificial waterways; and for the construction and operation of the Nicaragua canal under the control of the federal government.

They also recommend that permanent agencies be established as may be best calculated to secure the favorable results contemplated by the organization, and that the executive committee be empowered to make such expenditures as may be best calculated to accomplish the ends aimed at by the association.

Gaumer of Zanesville in the Ide-Gaumer election contest in 1892. Three counts were found against ex-Senator L. C. Ohl, as follows:

Soliciting $250 from ex-Senator Geo. B. Iden in the Ide-Gaumer election contest; accepting $250 from Iden in same; and offering and promising to give Senator Avery of Cleveland $1.66 for his influence in holding up in committees two bills in the interest of the Ohio State university. Gear and Geyer are Democrats and Ohl a Republican. It is said other indictments are probable.

Two boats with tows of empties passed up the river last night and rivermen say the packets will all be out on Saturday. They are tied up at various landings along the stream.

Lanterns were in general use in the western part of the city last evening. The mud is deep, and the dark arc lights made it necessary for people to have some means of lighting their pathway.

It is suggested that the people residing on streets without pavements make walks of broken saggars and clinkers. They are better than nothing, as one man remarked, and keep down the mud.

Friends of the Ohio river are particularly active in congress at present. Senator Sherman has presented a memorial from the national board of trade, asking that improvements on the Ohio be continued.

"As long as people are not punished for littering the streets, so long will they be unsightly," remarked a business man. "An ounce of prevention in keeping waste paper off the streets is worth a pound of cure in the shape of the sweeper."

Captain Brunt is home from Baltimore, where he spent a few weeks with friends. An acquaintance who is in the revenue service delighted the captain by taking him for a trip down the bay on one of the trimmest cutters the government owns.

Not the oldest resident, but a man who has lived in the valley all his life, said today that we must not think the winter is over because of the sloppy weather. He saw signs last fall which convinced him that the best part of it is yet to come.

Although the trial of W. H. Thompson did not result in conviction, it has had its effect. The blind at one saloon window, constructed after the fashion of Thompson's curtain, has been raised, so that a full view of the saloon could be obtained every night since the trial.

Samuel Mayer, of Bank street, received a telegram today from Trenton announcing the death of his brother-in-law, Isaac Yates. He has suffered from a complication of diseases. Mr. Yates was well known to many Trenton people who reside in this city.

The senate at Columbus acted favorably on the bill which places a tax of $400 on the wholesaler and $200 on the retailer of cigarettes. Local dealers say the law will be prohibitive so far as this city is concerned if it succeeds in getting a place on the statute books. They do not now make enough from the sale of cigarettes to pay it.

The rain last night had its effect on the river, and the stream is rising today. It has been raining hard in the mountains and over a large stretch of territory to the east. When this flood comes down all the coal can be moved from Pittsburgh, as the rivermen expect something good in the way of a rise. There is still some ice in the stream, but not enough to make navigation dangerous.

THREAT FROM WARNER MILLER. European Capital Will Be Sought If We Don't Help the Nicaragua Canal. CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—Senator Warner Miller said in an interview here: "If congress at its present session does not provide for building and controlling the Nicaragua canal by the United States we shall seek European capital for its construction. For five years this government has been playing fast and loose. We have never asked for government aid, and have gone to Washington only when summoned. Congress has no right to ask private individuals who have put $5,000,000 into the enterprise to stand this delay any longer. Once free, we can get all the European capital we need. I am afraid there will then be a good cause for war, for the administration can allow a European power to have control of the great waterway." Mr. Miller said that the canal offers are prepared to combat any adverse features of the report to be made to congress by the commission of United States engineers. The best engineers of the world, he said, had examined the plans and declared them feasible and moderate in cost. "I don't think the report will have any weight with our friends," Mr. Miller added. "The commission was appointed at the instance of an enemy of the canal, and its report has a purpose behind its findings." MANUFACTURERS' RESOLUTIONS. Strong Ones Adopted at the Convention at Chicago. CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—The manufacturers' convention is being more largely attended. The resolutions adopted declared emphatically for a home market for home producers; for the largest possible extension of foreign trade relations; for the principle of reciprocity in national legislation; to develop reciprocal trade relations with foreign countries; for a judicious system of subsidies to American shipping and to extend the merchant marine; for the improvement of natural and artificial waterways; and for the construction and operation of the Nicaragua canal under the control of the federal government. They also recommend that permanent agencies be established as may be best calculated to secure the favorable results contemplated by the organization, and that the executive committee be empowered to make such expenditures as may be best calculated to accomplish the ends aimed at by the association. Cars Go Through a Bridge. BALTIMORE, Jan. 23.—A loaded coal train on the Pittsburgh division of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad has been wrecked at Foley's Station, Pa., about 13 miles from Cumberland. A coupling pin slipped, causing the train to part. The sections collided on the bridge at the station, causing the structure to give way, carrying the cars with it. No one was hurt. Turns Down the Old Soldiers. EMPORIA, Kan., Jan. 23.—Judge Randolph of the district court handed down a decision which renders the state law inoperative that compels city councils to give preference to old soldiers in appointments, other things being equal.

BRIBERY THE CHARGE. Three Ex-Legislators Indicted at Columbus. GEAR, GEYER AND OHL THE MEN. Two Democrats and One Republican Accused of Prostituting Their High Positions—Other Indictments Will Follow. Great Excitement in Political Circles. COLUMBUS, Jan. 23.—A bomb has been exploded in political circles by the indictment of three ex-members of the legislature on the charges of bribery. A true bill was found against ex-Senator John Geyer, charged with soliciting $400 from W. F. Burdell of this city, for his influence in securing the passage of a bill in the interest of the Ohio Savings Bank and Trust company in 1893. A true bill was also found against ex-Senator Gear, charged with soliciting $250 from D. H. Gaumer of Zanesville in the Iden-Gaumer election contest in 1892. Three counts were found against ex-Senator L. C. Ohl, as follows: Soliciting $250 from ex-Senator Geo. B. Iden in the Iden-Gaumer election contest; accepting $250 from Iden in same; and offering and promising to give Senator Avery of Cleveland $1.66 for his influence in holding up in committee two bills in the interest of the Ohio State university. Gear and Geyer are Democrats and Ohl a Republican. It is said other indictments are probable. LIQUOR MEN SCARED. Try to Compromise With Anti-Saloon League Regarding Haskell Bill. COLUMBUS, Jan. 23.—The Anti-Saloon league's demonstration in favor of the passage of the Haskell (Haskell) local option bill is causing alarm to the Saloon League. The latter offers to compromise by proposing an increase of the Dow tax from $250 to $500, but the anti will not compromise. Bills introduced in the senate were: Cigarette bill taxing wholesalers $400 and retailers $250 was passed. Bill providing that contractors shall be liable, on their bond, for work and material was introduced. Joint resolution providing for a vote on constitutional convention was introduced. Bill to deduct mortgages from tax listing of mortgagor and place them on mortgage was introduced. Bill restoring mechanics' lien law was introduced. Resolution introduced authorizing penitentiary committee to investigate election. Bill passed in house amending the law so as to elect executive committees of teachers' institutes for three years. Bills introduced in the house were: Requiring all woolen goods to be labeled. Permitting pupils in country districts to attend village schools when nearer than their own. Making an attempt to pick pockets a felony. Authorizing an assignee to sell notes given for purchase money. Making insanity a ground for divorce. Authorizing the governor to charge a fee for all commissions. Increasing numbers of prisoners that may be employed on a contract from 10 to 25 per cent. Limiting county teachers' examinations to nine per year. Giving canal commission power to sue for recovery of land where it is situated. Reducing legal rates of advertising to 80 and 40 cents. A LOCOMOTIVE EXPLOSION. The Engineer Killed and a Number Injured Near South Charleston, O. COLUMBUS, Jan. 23.—The engine of the New York and St. Louis express, on the Little Miami railroad, has exploded, one and a half miles west of South Charleston and 40 miles from Columbus, killing Clark A. Trimble, engineer, and George Waters, fireman, both of Columbus. No other persons were killed or injured. The track was all torn up, requiring transfer of passengers temporarily at that point. The persons injured were: William T. Wallace, head; William Spicer, Harrisonburg, Va.; Charles Mayer, enroute to Tyler, Tex.; Ann H. Ramsey, New Athens, O.; Mrs. C. E. Bedell; H. D. Delock, Zanesville, O.; Gay and Lily Cochran, Springfield, Ind. George Ulan and John Torrence, postal clerks, were not seriously injured. Killed in a Terrible Manner. YOUNGSTOWN, Jan. 23.—One man was killed and two injured by the hoisting machinery in the converting department of the Ohio Steel company going wrong, which caused two cages to go up and down at a terrible rate. Charles Harmski was carried to the top of the hoist and brought back with such force that his hips were both broken, his skull fractured and neck broken. Pat Nagle and Andy Plasko were thrown off and hurt, but not fatally. Gompers to Test an Ohio Law. COLUMBUS, Jan. 23.—The president of the local Federation of Labor says Samuel Gompers, president of the national federation, is coming here to act on the discharge of 17 men who formed a labor union. The Ohio law fixes a penalty for this. The firm admits the cause of discharge to be as stated. This will be the first important test of the law. The discharge occurred Jan. 20. Demented From Study. PIQUA, O., Jan. 23.—Thomas Randolph, aged 29, has become violently insane, which is accredited to close application to books and chemistry. On account of several times threatening the life of his sister's sweetheart and the members of his family, he was taken into custody. Ewing's Death Deplored. NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—The Ohio society held a special meeting last night to take action on the death of General Thomas Ewing, one of its charter members. Resolutions of praise and condolence were passed.

LOCAL BREVITIES. John Scott, of Del Roy, Carroll county, has moved his family to this city. It is said there will be some business changes in the city when spring comes. L. J. McGhie is in Sistersville looking after the telephone business in that place. Will Weaver went west this morning on his maiden trip for the Thompson company. Tom Rowe, who has been on the road with a theatrical company as musician, is home. Mr. and Mrs. Willis Cunningham entertained last evening in honor of the second anniversary of their daughter. I. N. Crable and Will Bloor went to New Castle today, where they will take part in the shoot of the gun club of that place. There have been no cases of typhoid fever reported for several days, and all those afflicted with the malady are getting along nicely. Last night was another quiet one for the police, and there was nothing of importance stirring. The police had no calls and the city was quiet. A small dog with a big tinted to its tail caused amusement on Market street yesterday afternoon, and came near being responsible for a runaway. The Chelsea pottery at New Cumberland is in operation, but the full force is not employed. There is no prospect of resumption at the Toronto pottery. Robert Surles, a Cleveland & Pittsburg brakeman residing in this city but employed for some time in the yards at Cleveland, now has a regular run on the road. Steubenville is having a great temperance revival, and hundreds of people attend every meeting. They need it. There were a dozen drunks in jail on Tuesday night. E. R. Frederick and Miss Lena Roberts were married last night by Squire Morley, and the little incident which caused the arrest of the groom was at once ended. Two boats with tows of empties passed up the river last night and rivermen say the packets will all be out on Saturday. They are tied up at various landings along the stream. Lanterns were in general use in the western part of the city last evening. The mud is deep, and the dark arc lights made it necessary for people to have some means of lighting their pathway. It is suggested that the people residing on streets without pavements make walks of broken saggars and clinkers. They are better than nothing, as one man remarked, and keep down the mud. Friends of the Ohio river are particularly active in congress at present. Senator Sherman has presented a memorial from the national board of trade, asking that improvements on the Ohio be continued. "As long as people are not punished for littering the streets, so long will they be unsightly," remarked a business man. "An ounce of prevention in keeping waste paper off the streets is worth a pound of cure in the shape of the sweeper." Captain Brunt is home from Baltimore, where he spent a few weeks with friends. An acquaintance who is in the revenue service delighted the captain by taking him for a trip down the bay on one of the trimmest cutters the government owns. Not the oldest resident, but a man who has lived in the valley all his life, said today that we must not think the winter is over because of the sloppy weather. He saw signs last fall which convinced him that the best part of it is yet to come. Although the trial of W. H. Thomson did not result in conviction, it has had its effect. The blind at one saloon window, constructed after the fashion of Thompson's curtain, has been raised, so that a full view of the saloon could be obtained every night since the trial. Samuel Mayer, of Bank street, received a telegram today from Trenton announcing the death of his brother-in-law, Isaac Yates. He has suffered from a complication of diseases. Mr. Yates was well known to many Trenton people who reside in this city. The senate at Columbus acted favorably on the bill which places a tax of $400 on the wholesaler and $200 on the retailer of cigarettes. Local dealers say the law will be prohibitive so far as this city is concerned if it succeeds in getting a place on the statute books. They do not now make enough from the sale of cigarettes to pay it. The rain last night had its effect on the river, and the stream is rising today. It has been raining hard in the mountains and over a large stretch of territory to the east. When this flood comes down all the coal can be moved from Pittsburgh, as the rivermen expect something good in the way of a rise. There is still some ice in the stream, but not enough to make navigation dangerous.

THE INDIAN PRINCESS

Miss Pauline Johnson, the Mohawk Poetess.

WILL BE HERE NEXT WEEK

Miss Johnson Will Be at the Grand, In Company With Owen A. Smith, As a Special Entertainment in the Association
Course.

It was some years ago, and not so many, after all, when pretty Pauline Johnson, the black haired, gray eyed, swarthy little daughter of the chief of the Mohawks, was held up to the window of her father's house by the tender Indian nurse and clapped her little hands and cried out with delight at the sights she saw. For the Mohawks were making a chief of the lad Prince Arthur, and the village of Ohswekan, in the Indian reservation, on the banks of the Grand river in Ontario, echoed with the war whoops and glared with the light of the yellow fires.

Pauline's gray eyes sparkled as she looked out of the window of Chief's wood, the family estate. The proudest blood of the old Mohawk tribe flowed in her veins, as she struggled to be free from her nurse's arms as she saw her father, Tekahionwake, or "Double Wampum" was a great man on this occasion, and on other occasions when the Indian dignitaries disported themselves.

Pauline's grandfather was there, too. He was the beloved of all the chiefs. For 40 years he was speaker of the council of the Iroquois nation, and his silver tongue rolled so sweetly with the rippling Mohawk that his warriors and brothers called him the "Mohawk Warbler."

"Disappearing of the Indian Summer Mist" was what her grandfather's title meant, and none was greater than he. For hundreds of miles around he knew every inch of ground. He was a warrior in the battles of Stony Creek and Queenston and the troubles of 1812. It was he who carried dispatches, under cover of black night, from Niagara Falls to Hamilton on horseback through the woods. For 20 years the old chief was the government interpreter for six nations.

In his day he could shoot the speeding arrow in its deadly flight, he could hurl the tomahawk with unerring aim; his uplifted arm quelled the rising tumult in the tribe; his voice had but to give the sound and his faithful chiefs jumped to their feet.

Pauline's grandfather and father and one other chief performed the rites which made Prince Arthur, of England, a Mohawk chief. Prince Arthur and Albert Cleghorn, of Brantford, in Ontario, are the only two white men who can sit in the nation's council.

In the early years of the century the Mohawks hunted and fished and roamed at will. But the white man has eaten into their territory until now the 5,000 Indians are confined in 122,000 acres, 60 miles west of Toronto.

Pauline's grandfather and father have been gathered to the Great Spirit in the happy hunting ground. Little Pauline, with the gray eyes, dark skin, and black hair, has grown up to be a lady now, and, as she threw aside her Indian mink-trimmed garment in which she had been bundled, and stretched out a welcoming hand to the reporter yesterday at the Vendome, one would never suspect her as being the granddaughter of "Disappearing of the Indian Summer Mist."

"Ah, I understand your look," she said, smilingly, displaying two rows of firm white teeth. "You will say I am not like other Indians, that I am not a representative. That is not strange. Cultivate an Indian, let him show his aptness, and you Americans say he is an exception. Let a bad quality crop out and you will stamp him as an Indian immediately."

Miss Johnson is a stalwart enthusiast over her Indian ancestry. From end to end of Canada her name is known as a literary woman of unusual ability. In conversation she is brilliant, in appearance handsome and attractive. When she read she captivated all who heard her. Her short visit to Boston will be replete with social attentions, and already she has been idolized by the Hub's bright literary set.—Boston Herald.

Mr. Smith constitutes the most admirable foil possible for the Tragical Mohawk Princess. He has a wonderful voice and jumps from a gruff bass to a high soprano or light tenor with greatest ease. At the Grand Opera House, East Liverpool, Saturday evening, Feb. 1.

Fair and beautiful

—the woman who keeps at a distance the complexion beautifiers, paints and powders, which soon ruin the face. A healthy glow to the skin, a face without wrinkles, and sparkling eyes, will be yours if you keep the system and the special internal organs in good condition. The young girl, or woman, often grows pale, wrinkled and thin, eats little, everything worries her, she complains of herself as aching and sore and as sleeping poorly. Often she is troubled with backache, or a tender spine, with a bearing-down weight in the abdomen, or at periods she may be irregular, or suffer extreme pain from functional derangements.

Dr. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., in his long and active experience, met many cases of this kind, for which he used a prescription which was found to cure such difficulties permanently in ninety-eight per cent. of all cases. Having proven so successful, Dr. Pierce put his "Favorite Prescription" on the market, and it is today sold more largely than any other medicine for the ills of woman.

For all functional derangements, displacements, ulceration, inflammation, and the catarrhal drain from the lining membranes of the special internal organs of women, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription reaches the origin of the trouble, and corrects it.

Mrs. Mary Crim, of Frankfort, Franklin Co., Ill., writes: "A few years ago I took cold, which resulted in female trouble, and affected my whole system. About a year ago, I took chills, had one or two a month; they were very weakening. Had pains in my sides more frequently in left side; gradually grew worse until, finally, I had to take to bed. I had a bad cough and couldn't rest. I commenced taking your medicine about four months, taking seven bottles of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription and five of his 'Golden Medical Discovery.' My weight has increased, and I feel better and stouter than I have for years."

Mrs. CRIM.

A FULL FORCE.

All the Employees of the Standard Will Start Tomorrow.

The clay hands who have been employed at the Standard for several days will tomorrow be joined by the kilnmen and dippers, making a full force for the pottery. The company have been greatly handicapped since the fire, but now they have a well equipped plant and will have plenty of ware for the market very soon.

The Flora Staniford Co.

The attendance at the Grand last night was very small, although the play, "Clotilde's Revenge," was well rendered. The company has been in hard luck since coming to this city, nearly all the members suffering from different ailments. Last night the pianist was unable to be present and all the specialties had to be cut out. Tonight the company give their best performance, "Under Old Glory," a patriotic sensational comedy drama owned by the company, and written by one of the cast. Special scenery is carried for this production, and the play will be rendered by the original cast. In order to draw a large audience, ladies' reserved tickets will be sold for 15 cents, and the management agrees to refund money to any who are dissatisfied.

Recovering From a Fall.

Mrs. A. Bryan, an aged lady residing on Third street, is recovering from the effects of an accident which befel her a few weeks ago. She was walking near the cellar door, and did not notice that it was open. The result was a hard fall which caused the lady great pain.

Wanted by Portland.

A letter has been received here asking if Fry, the first baseman of the Shamrocks, could be obtained for the Portland, Me., team, and it is likely that a reply will be sent that Fry is willing to play professional ball. He made a reputation in the city last season.

Increasing the Membership.

The athletic classes of the Turner society are having a prosperous season and are increasing in membership almost every meeting. Prof. Will Hertel has charge of the classes, and they are becoming proficient under his tutelage.

Carlton Cornwell, foreman of the Gazette, Middletown, N. J., believes that Chamberlain's Cough remedy should be in every home. He used it for a cold and it effected a speedy cure. He says: "It is indeed a grand remedy, I can recommend to all. I have also seen it used for whooping cough, with the best results." Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Moved From Irondale.

Mr. Carl and family have moved here from Irondale where they will reside. The tin mill at Irondale is working regularly and more men are employed than at any other time in the history of the plant.

There is good reason for the popularity of Chamberlain's Cough remedy. Davis & Buzard, of West Monterey, Clarion company, Pa., says: "It has cured people that our physicians could do nothing for. We persuaded them to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough remedy and they now recommend it with the rest of us." Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

THE INDIAN PRINCESS

Miss Pauline Johnson, the
Mohawk Poetess,

WILL BE HERE NEXT WEEK

Miss Johnson will be at the Grand, In Company With Owen A. Smiley, As a Special Entertainment in the Association
Course.

It was some years ago, and not so many, after all, when pretty Pauline Johnson, the black haired, gray eyed, swarthy little daughter of the chief of the Mohawks, was held up to the window of her father's house by the tender Indian nurse and clapped her little hands and cried out with delight at the sights she saw. For the Mohawks were making a chief of the lad Prince Arthur, and the village of Ohsawekan, in the Indian reservation, on the banks of the Grand river in Ontario, echoed with the war whoops and glared with the light of the yellow fires.

Pauline's gray eyes sparkled as she looked out of the window of Chief's-wood, the family estate. The proudest blood of the old Mohawk tribe flowed in her veins, as she struggled to be free from her nurse's arms as she saw her father, Tekahionwake, or "Double Wampum" was a great man on that occasion, and on other occasions when the Indian dignitaries disported themselves.

Pauline's grandfather was there, too. He was the beloved of all the chiefs. For 40 years he was speaker of the council of the Iroquois nation, and his silver tongue rolled so sweetly with the rippling Mohawk that his warriors and brothers called him the "Mohawk Warbler."

"Disappearing of the Indian Summer Mist" was what her grandfather's title meant, and none was greater than he. For hundreds of miles around he knew every inch of ground. He was a warrior in the battles of Stony Creek and Queenston and the troubles of 1812. It was he who carried dispatches, under cover of black night, from Niagara Falls to Hamilton on horseback through the woods. For 20 years the old chief was the government interpreter for six nations.

In his day he could shoot the speeding arrow in its deadly flight, he could hurl the tomahawk with unerring aim; his uplifted arm quelled the rising tumult in the tribe; his voice had but to give the sound and his faithful chiefs jumped to their feet.

Pauline's grandfather and father and one other chief performed the rites which made Prince Arthur, of England, a Mohawk chief. Prince Arthur and Albert Cleghorn, of Brantford, in Ontario, are the only two white men who can sit in the nation's council.

In the early years of the century the Mohawks hunted and fished and roamed at will. But the white man has eaten into their territory until now the 5,000 Indians are confined in 122,000 acres, 60 miles west of Toronto.

Pauline's grandfather and father have been gathered to the Great Spirit in the happy hunting ground. Little Pauline, with the gray eyes, dark skin, and black hair, has grown up to be a lady now, and, as she threw aside her Indian mink-trimmed garment in which she had been bundled, and stretched out a welcoming hand to the reporter yesterday at the Vendome, one would never suspect her as being the granddaughter of "Disappearing of the Indian Summer Mist."

"Ah, I understand your look," she said, smilingly, displaying two rows of firm white teeth. "You will say I am not like other Indians, that I am not a representative. That is not strange. Cultivate an Indian, let him show his aptness, and you Americans say he is an exception. Let a bad quality crop out and you will stamp him as an Indian immediately."

Miss Johnson is a stalwart enthusiast over her Indian ancestry. From end to end of Canada her name is known as a literary woman of unusual ability. In conversation she is brilliant, in appearance handsome and attractive. When she read she captivated all who heard her. Her short visit to Boston will be replete with social attentions, and already she has been idolized by the Hub's bright literary set.—Boston Herald.

Mr. Smiley constitutes the most admirable foil possible for the Tragical Mohawk Princess. He has a wonderful voice and jumps from a gruff bass to a high soprano or light tenor with greatest ease. At the Grand Opera House, East Liverpool, Saturday evening, Feb. 1.

Fair and beautiful
—the woman who keeps
at a distance the complexion beautifiers,
pinks and powders,
which soon ruin the face.
A healthy glow to the skin, a face without wrinkles, and sparkling eyes, will be yours if you keep the system and the special internal organs
in good condition. The young girl, or woman, often grows pale, wrinkled and thin,
eats little, everything wears her, she complains of herself as aching and sore and as sleeping poorly. Often she is troubled with backache, or a tender spine, with a bearing-down weight in the abdomen, or at periods
she may be irregular, or suffer extreme pain from functional derangements.

Dr. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., in his long and active experience, met many cases of this kind, for which he used a prescription which he found to cure such difficulties permanently in ninety-eight per cent. of all cases. Having proven so successful, Dr. Pierce put his "Favorite Prescription" on the market, and it is to-day sold more largely than any other medicine for the ills of woman.

For all functional derangements, displacements, ulceration, inflammation, and the catarrhal drain from the lining membranes of the special internal organs of women, Dr.
Pierce's Favorite Prescription reaches the origin of the trouble, and corrects it.

Mrs. MARY CRIM, of Frankfort, Franklin Co., Ky., writes: "A few years ago I took cold,
which resulted in female trouble, and affected my whole system. About a year ago, I took chills,
had one or two a month;
they were very weakening. Had pains in my sides more frequently in left side; gradually grew worse until, finally, I had to take to bed. I had a bad cough and couldn't rest. I commenced taking your medicine, took it about four months, taking seven bottles of Doctor
Pierce's Favorite Prescription and five of his
"Golden Medical Discovery." My weight has increased, and I feel better and stouter than I have for years."

The attendance at the Grand last night was very small, although the play, "Clotilde's Revenge," was well rendered. The company has been in hard luck since coming to this city, nearly all the members suffering from different ailments. Last night the pianist was unable to be present and all the specialties had to be cut out.
Tonight the company give their best performance, "Under Old Glory," a patriotic sensational comedy drama owned by the company, and written by one of the cast. Special scenery is carried for this production, and the play will be rendered by the original cast. In order to draw a large audience, ladies' reserved tickets will be sold for 15 cents, and the management agrees to refund money to any who are dissatisfied.

Carlton Cornwell, foreman of the

that Chamberlain's Cough remedy should be in every home. He used it
